President Dahl is in the city inspecting the North Carson Mine.

Principal King, of Empire is on his legs again, and will soon resume his school duties.

At a meeting of the Carson Wheelmen it was decided that they give a splendid ball on New Year's eve.

The Chinese merchants say that the White faro game run in Chinatown threatens the peace and quiet of that neighborhood.

Hunters who have been down to the Sink of the Carson in search of game come home from there much discouraged at the disgusting predominance of pelicans.

Abe Cohn has laid in a supply of Winter goods, that places clothes in the reach of the most poverty stricken people in the country. He defies competition in his prices.

Antimony is worth from 17 to 20 cents a pound. A mine of the metal is now better than a mine of copper. Only one or two of Nevada's many antimony mines are being worked.

Crowley, the murderer has been sentenced to serve the balance of his life in the States Prison at hard labor. In a short speech to the jury and judges he proclaimed his innocence in the matter of throwing his victim down the shaft after striking him with the axe.

The grand old racer and sire Norfolk died Tuesday morning and was buried on the rancho del Rio. Numerous flower pieces were placed over the "king's" resting place. Norfolk would have been thirty-one years of age in January, and from his loins sprang some of the best running stock that ever enriched its backers.

It is doubtful whether any new light will be thrown on the Charlie Ross mystery by the latest discovery of a boy in a Massachusetts jail who answers the description of the long lost lad. The public has become so skeptical of these stories that even identification by the father would be apt to be discredited, as the nervous strain for years has had its effect on his brain.

At the Methodist-Episcopal Church today the following services will be held: Services at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Morning subject, "Christian Work and Workers." Evening subject, "The Doubters." Sabbath school at 12 m. Prayer and young people's meeting on Wednesday and Friday evenings. All are cordially invited. C. L. LOGAN, Pastor.

The Eastern papers speak in the highest terms of Mrs. LeMoyné the brilliant reader who is to appear here on the 8th of December having been induced to do so by an intimate friend. The dramatic editor of the Mail and Express says: She is strong in description of action rather than of scenes, and possesses and exhibits a lovely and lovable feminine nature, a whole-hearted womanliness and an earnest and intelligent love for her work, which capture an audience at once, and win the affection of her hearers before she satisfies their intellectual judgment.

Astray.—A heifer calf about 8 months old. Apply at Shaw's Hot Springs. n18

For Sale.—A fresh young cow 3 years old. For further particulars apply at this office. n18

The Weather.

This is regular old fashioned Nevada weather. For weeks and weeks the sun has hung all day in a cloudless sky, and the moon has an uninterrupted expanse of azure to shine in.

There is none of the Autumn haze about the weather, but the granite-fretted mountains of Nevada stand against the clear sky like clean cut cameos on a field of blue.

There is scarcely a breath of wind, and the grass keeps sprouting under the genial sun. What people call perfect days have indeed been here for a month, and there seems no prospect of a change.

This is not what poets call an Italian sky and air, but something a good deal clearer and healthier and better. We have none of the old malaria laden marshes that surround Rome, to taint the delicate purity of our atmosphere, which is fragrant with the scents of pines from the Eastern slope of the Sierra, and carries ozone 999 fine.

No One Barred.

Empire City, Nov. 29th.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE APPEAL:—I wish to answer the article in the Nevada Tribune of the 28th inst. headed "Death to Turkeys."

The statement that Messrs. McCullough, Torreyson and Little were barred on account of their success as marksmen is untrue. No one was barred. Were it not that such a statement contradicted might mislead the public, I should be pleased to encourage the author to higher and nobler flights of imagination; at least somewhere near the region where truth and humor dwell—say within 200-yards. Still I hope the author may be better fitted to shoot turkeys, so I invite him to come to Empire City next Christmas day and shoot turkeys at 200-yards, 50 cents a shot. Those having a preference for the charms of chickens, duck and pigeons will be given suitable introductions at reasonable prices. Everybody invited. The Carson Guard is especially invited. No one barred. Truly Yours, JAMES WIGGINS.

Buying Votes.

A striking feature of the masquerade last night—if buying votes can be designated as striking—was the earnest canvass for votes made by the six gentlemen who personated the candidates on election day. Each was elegantly attired in a black cloth suit and a plug hat, and their demeanor was marked with a saucy and politeness that fittingly became the real article, and they only differed from that by the open and notorious display of imitation greenbacks that were freely offered and taken by the voters thus tempted. It was a travesty on one of our customs that we hope the adoption of the Australian ballot system will consign to oblivion.—Gazette.

The Debating Society Medal.

It is the pride of every member of the High School Debating Society to win and wear the Society gold medal. There is a medal each for the girls' and boy's class. Recently the medals have been won respectively by Sybil Howe and Bert Ullrick, Sam Platt and Sophia Jacobs, and Nevada Olcovich and Frank Saxton.

St. Peter's Church.

A San Francisco paper of Wednesday last reports the Rev. J. Sweeney of Carson as registered at the Grand. John looks so much like a preacher, that frequently in San Francisco couples stop him on the street and ask him to marry them.

COAST NEWS.

Burglars have struck Sacramento, and made a few successful raids.

Senator Mitchell, it is conceded, will be re-elected by the Oregon Legislature.

Anacortes, Wash., is ten months old and has already ten miles of electric tramways along the street.

It is believed that W. J. McConnell and Governor Shoup will be chosen United States Senators from Idaho.

The United States Court at Los Angeles has ordered the arrest of Wo Sing at San Diego for the smuggling of Chinese from Mexico.

F. J. Kyle, who claims to be the head of a fruit firm at Chicago, is imprisoned at Los Angeles and is charged with passing a bogus draft on a clothing store.

A smooth young man swindled four Tacoma merchants out of $800. He promised to let them into a scheme to corner the entire timber market of the Northwest.

Lena Hollander was lighting a fire with coal oil at Phoenix, A. T. Thursday, when the can exploded. She was severely burned as were also the two men who put out the flames.

James H. Marshall was shot and killed at Naulmo, B. C., Thursday in a gambling squabble over $3 Solferini Tuperini, an Italian, who has a wife and family in San Francisco.

The four-year-old daughter of John Harlin of Chico, while playing with a revolver last Sunday, was accidentally shot through the breast. There is a likelihood of her recovery.

John Campo, a Mexica, and Antone Gerieich, an Austrian, were shot in a saloon at Astoria Thursday by Martin Waston. They were all drunk. The wounds are not considered fatal.

While hunting on the Claskan river, near Astoria, Or., Thursday, A. F. Stoner was accidentally shot by a companion, receiving a wound in the back which will probably result fatally.

Vagrants and petty thieves have inaugurated a reign of terror among the good housekeepers of East Portland, Or. A Vigilance Committee is threatened, the police seemingly being ineffective.

It was reported at Oroville Tuesday that a man named Emory Jones, well known thereabouts, killed himself with a giant-powder cartridge in a mine near Granite Basin, in Plumas county, last Saturday.

The Elko Murder.

WELLS, Nev., Nov. 28.—The murderer Morris had a preliminary examination today, and was held over for the action of the Grand Jury. He exhibited considerable nervousness when the evidence was being taken, and particularly so when John Reed, the tramp, testified that he gave him a $5 bill with the remark that he had just killed a man. The clothes that Morris wore when arrested were stained with blood, which he had been trying to wash out on the cars.

An autopsy was held on Lancaster's body, which showed that the windpipe, jugular vein and carotid artery were completely severed, and that he had been horribly beaten on the head with some blunt instrument, presumably a stone, but sufficiently sharp to cut the scalp.

The testimony at the inquest tends to prove that John Reed is accessory, before and after, if not a participant in, the murder.

Reed came here a few days prior to the murder, from California. He is an inveterate drinker, and was held under $1,000 bonds to appear as a witness in default of which he is in jail at Elko.

A remarkable case has just been tried in the Dublin courts. Annie Williams, an infant, through her mother, sued a railroad company for damages for injuries received during a collision. She was not born at the time of the accident, and it was urged for the defense that the defendants had made no contracts with her, and, therefore, were not liable; while it was contended for the plaintiff that there was an implied contract, and that as she had been born crippled in consequence of the accident she was entitled to damages. The Judge, it may be added, reserved his decision.
